WHAT TO EXPECT AFTER VACCINATIONS

Common Side Effects

Reactions at the injection site often happen within a few hours after vaccination. Soreness, redness and/or swelling are common.

Use an ice pack or cool, wet washcloth on the area for no more than 10 minutes. Move the arm repeatedly.

Other reactions may include fever, muscle aches, headache and/or loss of appetite.

Drink plenty of fluids, wear loose clothing and take ibuprofen or acetaminophen as needed. Talk to your doctor for appropriate dosing for an infant.
